Draft Reopening Plan to be Presented at August 5th School Board Meeting

In light of the circumstances presented by the COVID-19 pandemic, extensive planning for the start of school took place during the summer months. The District's draft reopening plan is now available for review by the public. The plan was developed by the school administration in collaboration with a coordinated set of committees and workgroups. Most recently, the Back to School 2020 Governance Committee carefully reviewed the plan and suggested adjustments to the document that will be formally considered by the Raymond School Board on Wednesday, the 5th of August. Stakeholders are invited to review the draft plan and provide input at the Board meeting, which begins at 6 PM at Raymond High School.

Parents, guardians and employees are also asked to review the draft plan and then participate in this very brief survey. Those results will also be considered Board members by August 5th.

All input is welcome, as we work together to protect the health and safety of our entire community while working to provide high quality educational services to all students even in the face of significant challenges.

Thank you for your continued support of our schools during this difficult time!

Sincerely,

Tina H. McCoy, Ed.D.
Superintendent of Schools
