

Raymond School District Policy - GCEE

REMOTE WORK POLICY

Proposed new policy second reading December 2, 2020

The Raymond School District considers remote work to be a viable, flexible work option when both the employee and the job function are suited to such an arrangement. A temporary remote work arrangement may be appropriate for some employees and jobs but may not be for others. Working remotely is not an entitlement, it is not a district wide benefit, and it in no way changes the terms and conditions of employment with the Raymond School District.

Procedures

Remote work can be informal, such as working from home for a short-term project, or a formal set schedule working away from school for a predetermined period of time. Either an employee or a supervisor can suggest working remotely as a possible work arrangement. An employee's performance when working remotely will be monitored in the same manner as all employees at their assigned school or office.

Any remote work arrangement made will be temporary and on a trial basis and may be discontinued at will and at any time at the request of either the remote worker or the Raymond School District.

Temporary remote work arrangements may be approved for circumstances such as inclement weather, special projects, or other unusual or personal circumstances. These aforementioned arrangements are approved on an as-needed basis only, with no expectation of ongoing continuance.

Authorization to work remotely will be determined by and is at the sole discretion of the Superintendent or Superintendent's designee. There are no grievance and appeal rights ~~regarding this process~~ from the Superintendent's decision to authorize remote work. Employees with concerns about the contents of this Policy may bring their concerns to the Board.

Eligibility

Before entering into any remote work agreement, the employee and supervisor, with the assistance of the human resources department as needed, will evaluate the suitability of such an arrangement. Final approval of the arrangement will be made by the Superintendent or Superintendent's designee only. Employees approved to work from home must be available by telephone, email or video conferencing to the same extent that they would be during an on-site work day.

Evaluation of employee's performance while working remotely will include regular interaction by phone, video conference and email between the employee and the supervisor, and possible weekly meetings to discuss work progress and problems. The supervisor will evaluate the arrangement and make recommendations for continuance or modifications. Evaluation of employee performance while working remotely will be consistent with that received by employees working on-site in both content and frequency but will focus on work output and completion of objectives rather than on time-based performance.

Other informal, short-term arrangements may be made for employees on family or medical leave to the extent practical for the employee and the district and with the consent of the employee's health care provider, if appropriate.

Equipment

On a case-by-case basis, the Raymond School District will determine, with information supplied by the employee and the supervisor, the appropriate equipment needs for each remote work arrangement. Equipment supplied by the organization is to be used for business purposes only and will be maintained by the District. Upon termination of employment, all company property will be returned to the district, unless other arrangements have been made. Equipment supplied by the employee, if deemed appropriate by the organization, will be maintained by the employee. The Raymond School District accepts no responsibility for damage or repairs to employee-owned equipment.

The employee will establish an appropriate work environment within his or her home for work purposes. The Raymond School District will not be responsible for costs associated with the setup of the employee's home office, such as remodeling, furniture or lighting, nor for repairs or modifications to the home office space.

As outlined in the Raymond School District's Acceptable Use Procedures a system administrator or other authorized District staff member may, at any time and without advance notice to staff, monitor, access, modify, remove, review, retrieve and or disclose the subject, content and appropriateness of any and all information stored or transmitted on District technology resources, including information that may have been deleted but still exists on the system.

Security and Confidentiality

Consistent with the district's expectations of information security for employees working at the office, in accordance with the Raymond School District's Acceptable Use Policy, employees approved to work remotely will be expected to ensure the protection of proprietary information accessible from their home office. Steps include the use of locked file cabinets and desks, regular password maintenance, and any other measures appropriate for the job and the environment.

An employee who is approved to work from home shall recognize and respect confidential information acquired in the course of employment regarding individual student safety, education, health, and personal information of students and their families as well as information acquired about personnel. Employees need to be cognizant of others in their work space at home and consider confidentiality when talking with students, parents and/or staff via telephone, email and video conferencing.

Safety

Employees are expected to maintain their home workspace in a safe manner, free from safety hazards. Injuries sustained by the employee in a home office location and in conjunction with his or her regular work duties ~~are normally covered~~ may be covered by the company's workers' compensation policy. Employees working remotely are responsible for notifying the supervisor of such injuries as soon as practicable. Employees are responsible for filling out the Employee's First Report of Injury form and submitting this to their supervisor and Human Resources within 5 calendar days after you reported such injury to your supervisor. The employee is liable for any injuries sustained by visitors to his or her home worksite.

Remote work is not designed to be a replacement for appropriate child care. Although an individual employee's schedule may be modified to accommodate child care needs, the focus of the arrangement must remain on job performance.

Time Worked

Employees working remotely, who are not exempt from the overtime requirements of the Fair Labor Standards Act, will be required to accurately record all hours worked using the Raymond School District's time-keeping system. Hours worked in excess of those scheduled per day and per workweek require the prior approval of the employee's supervisor. Failure to comply with this requirement may result in the immediate termination of the remote work agreement.

Additional Considerations

The employee must determine any tax and or legal implications under IRS, state, and local government laws and or restrictions of working out of a home based office.
