F. New/Revised Policies - First Reading _____ Discussion

IKL Academic Honesty and Integrity (New)

Proposed new policy IKL represents the NHSBA sample policy in its entirety. From NHSBA: "The use of generative artificial intelligence ("AI ") tools is ever-present and becoming more so. Obvious concerns exist that students use such tools in place of their own work to the detriment of the development of their own critical thinking , writing and other skills, not to mention as a means of cheating or otherwise gaining an unfair advantage . Nonetheless, NHSBA recommends against a complete ban on AI tools due not only to their ubiquity and the constantly evolving difficulty in managing a ban. Perhaps more importantly, an outright ban fails to recognize that properly used, AI is a powerful tool both for teachers and students. With this in mind, NHSBA revised Section B of the policy to include a paragraph specific to improper use of AI, as well as language in some of the other examples of prohibited conduct to include reference to AI. The new section, B.3 "Improper Use of Artificial Intelligence", however, also allows for use within parameters established by a particular instructor or by district or school rules. NHSBA encourages school administrators, IT directors and teachers to consider such parameters."

JCA Change of Class or School Assignment: Best Interests & Manifest Hardship (Revise)

Though this policy was recently revised by the Board, NHSBA has since made a few updates. As per NHSBA: "revisions include clarification of the board's authority to approve Superintendent's assignment of students to approved private schools (see 2023 passage of SB77), as well as other revisions: (1) clarifying standards for consideration of requests for assignment to private schools, and annual review of both best interest and manifest hardship assignments, (2) adding language to section and footnote regarding transportation obligations in manifest hardship cases, and (3) minor format/grammar changes."

KCD Public Donations and Acceptance of Gifts (Revise)

The Policy Committee recommends the revision proposed to this policy.
