I spoke with Barrett Christina this morning.

1. The proposal as it stands already includes Raymond's Search Committee's full participation in the screening and interviewing of all applicants. When NHSBA posts the advertisement on SchoolSpring, all members of Raymond's Search Committee will receive login information so that they can view all applicants. And the Search Committee will continue to be involved with all screening, reviewing, narrowing down, and interviewing, along with a facilitator to guide them through the process and lead the interviews.
2. I believe the above addresses the concern about the ability for Raymond's people to be involved in choosing the finalists for the Raymond position, but since it was originally asked, I did inquire if there would be any difference in cost if NHSBA was not involved in screening and interviewing at all and that was done only by Raymond representatives. He was unable to provide a cost for that, as he would need to know exactly which items on the attached list the Board would want to remove from the proposal and then he'd need to do some math from there, calculate hours, etc. It's certainly possible to provide partial search services, but he'd need to know specifically which items we wouldn't want before putting that together.
3. There is no standard breakdown of costs for the full price.
4. He offered again to come and speak with the Board directly to help everyone understand the full process.

-Jennifer.
